

Fast Track Your Future with A level History of Art

Curious about how art reflects — and impacts — the world around us?

Ready to turn your interest into something more?

Then we have an exciting opportunity for you!

We are offering a limited number of fully funded places on a Fast Track A level in History of Art with the National Extension College (NEC).

History of Art is a rich and inspiring subject, allowing you to explore themes such as society, power, religion and identity through the thought-provoking lens of creative expression.

Normally priced at £1,499, these places are available free of charge to state-sector students, thanks to support from an Art History charity.

Following the Edexcel (9TH0) specification, this flexible online A level enables you to:

- Gain a History of Art A level in just one year
- Study when, where and how you like
- Progress at a pace that works for you

You will be supported every step of the way with:

- ✓ A clear study schedule to guide your progress
- ✓ A course plan outlining key dates and assignments
- ✓ Dedicated tutor support, including interactive discussion forums and live seminars
- ✓ Access to NEC's Wellbeing for Learning programme
- ✓ Revision and exam preparation guidance
- ✓ Full support with exam arrangements and booking
